Zoning changes next step for Metro Centre

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

In another step toward making the Metro World Centre project a reality, Romulus city council members approved Tuesday the rezoning of 982 acres at the development site.

Council approval was based upon recommendations from the city planning commission and the Wayne County Department of Jobs and Economic Development.

Approved was the rezoning of 665 acres east of Wayne Road, south of Ecorse Road, north of Interstate-94 and west of Venoy.

Combined zonings of single-family residential and light industrial were changed to a new category - regional center.

In addition, 317 acres west of Merriman and Wickham roads were rezoned from single-family residential and local business to regional center.

"This is a step that is very important to us," said Michael Prochaska, representing the Metro World Centre. "It allows us to put it all together as a site plan."

"Putting it all together" refers to plans for a major development near Detroit Metropolitan Airport. In the planning stages approximately five years, the Metro World Centre is expected to contain office buildings, hotels and conference centers, apartments, retail shops and a world college facility.

"Wayne County supports the proposed Metro World Centre development... We urge the Romulus City Council to approve the rezoning," wrote Gloria Robinson, director of the Wayne County Department of Jobs and Economic Development, in a letter to city officials.

Robinson pointed out the city may experience difficulty in the development area with an ordinance permitting building heights up to 15 stories or 150 feet.

Prochaska said he is aware of the county concerns.

Increase proposed for sanitation tax

Romulus taxpayers will soon be presented with a proposed millage increase for sanitary services.

City council members approved Tuesday a proposed increase of 1.7 mills and scheduled a public hearing for 7 p.m. June 14 to explain the action.

During a study session Tuesday to review the Romulus 1990/91 fiscal year budget, Finance Director Debbie Hoffman pointed out a .5000-mill reduction has been proposed for the sewer debt.

For taxpayers, the proposed millage adjustments would mean a total increase of .4897 mill. The figures would translate into an additional $5 on the tax bill of residents with $50,000 homes (or $25,000 state equalized value), Hoffman said.

"I'd be happy to pay $5 for sanitary services," she said, pointing out most communities are facing rapidly increasing bills for garbage pickup and transport to landfills.

According to Romulus assessor Matthew Raftary, no millage increases are proposed this fiscal year for the general operating fund.

Pizza delivery drivers targeted in 3 recent armed robberies

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus police officials are investigating three armed robberies of pizza drivers reported within several days of each other.

Police officials said the first two victims were lured to a false address early in the morning May 24 near the corner of Inkster and Eureka roads.

The first report came at midnight from a 24-year-old driver from Taylor.

He told police he arrived at a dead end street on the way to his order. A man approached his car.

When the delivery man opened his car door, the suspect pulled out a black-handled knife and placed it to the victim's face, police said. The victim was later treated for a two-inch cut to his cheek.

After producing the knife, the suspect entered the driver's car, pushing the victim to the passenger seat, reports indicate.

At Harrison Road north of Eureka, the suspect ordered the victim out of the car. He also exited and fled the scene on foot, police said.

The victim was able to drive back to work and call the police.

The suspect in this case is described as a white male, approximately 30 years old, 5-foot-7-inches, with medium length, short, brown hair, a beard and a mustache. He wore a blue denim jacket.

A second robbery report was called in at 1:04 a.m.

The 19-year-old Romulus driver from this case told police he was greeted by two men when he arrived at Inkster and Eureka with a pizza.

One of the men reportedly pulled a steak knife on the victim and demanded his money.

The suspects then pushed their way into the victim's 1984 Toyota. They dropped him off at Telegraph and Van Born roads and drove away in the victim's car, police said.

No injuries were reported.

Police describe the first suspect from this case as a white male in his late 20s, 6-foot tall, thin with blonde hair.

The other man is also a white male, 5-foot-11-inches, with dark hair and a mustache.

Police are also looking for the gold and brown Toyota taken from the second driver.

A third robbery was reported at 6 p.m. May 27.

A 26-year-old driver from Taylor arrived at a home on the 14000 block of Inkster with two pizzas.

He said a man was in front of the home doing yard work when he arrived. The man instructed the driver to bring the pizza to the front door.

Police said the suspect then approached the victim from behind with a steak knife and demanded his money.

Anyone with information about any of these robbery cases is urged to call the Romulus Police Department at 941-8400.

New home needed for Head Start

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

As officials from the Romulus Head Start preschool program coordinate registration for the summer session, they say they do not know if the program will have a home this fall.

The federally funded program for toddlers from low-income families is currently housed in the Wayne Metropolitan Services building at Beverly Road and Wayne.

Head Start rents the building from Wayne Metro Service, which in turn rents it from Romulus Community Schools.

For months, however, Head Start officials have been looking for a new school building for the 147 young children served by the program.

"The main reason we're looking is cost," said Patricia Donald, education coordinator and building supervisor for the program. "We're paying more than we can budget for."

Donald said annual rent for Toddlers from the Head Start program have been working with an officer from the Romulus Police Department through the Drug Abuse Resistance Education program. Head Start officials say their program focuses upon socialization skills for young children. Photo special to ANP

Search for Sumpter carriage may be 'ghost hunt'

Our search for a Sumpter Township-built carriage turned out to be a "search for a ghost."

Belleville Area Museum Curator Fonia Butler recently launched a search for a area-made carriage to be featured on the recreated Main Street in the museum.

"We should be looking for a Randall, not a Randolph," said area historian Park Gregory. "The Randall Carriage was one assembled by the father of Harry Randall, who had the DeSoto Automobile on Bemis Road, just west of Sumpter."

"The search loses some of its romance when we learn that the carriage was assembled from parts ordered from various manufacturers. For example, you could order steel tires or hard rubber ones," Gregory said.

The information on the hometown carriages was relayed to Gregory by Ruth Sherman, the daughter of J.C. Pullen, who was an undertaker and furniture dealer in Belleville from 1903 to 1932.

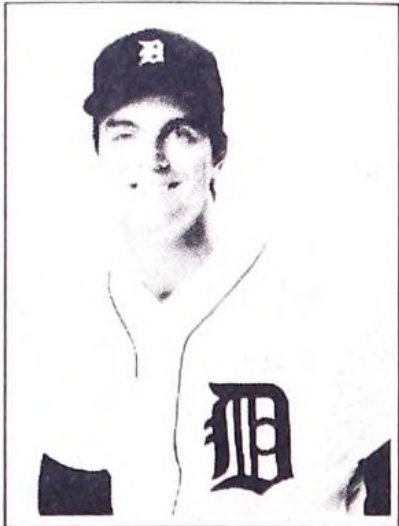

While searching for some hometown-built items, Gregory said, we could look for a Jaeger automobile, which was built in Belleville in 1932-33. It was a six-cylinder car with a Continental 70 h.p. engine and a retail price of $700.

Appointments OK'd for city boards

Resignations and appointments to several city boards and commissions received city council approval Tuesday.

Mayor Beverly McAnally presented councilmembers with a letter of resignation from longtime zoning board of appeals member Richard Campbell who stepped down for health reasons.

McAnally's recommendation to fill Campbell's seat with Brooker Edwards was voted down.

Councilmembers did approve the reappointment of Treasurer James Napiorkowski to the Romulus Building Authority.

Also reappointed to the building authority was Steve Trahey.

Later Tuesday, councilmembers approved a resolution thanking Campbell for his years of service to the city.

City prepares for softball

Romulus city officials are preparing for softball season.

A bid was approved Tuesday night for the purchase of T-shirts and hats for the summer activity.

City councilmembers agreed to award the bid to Southfield company Official Sports, the lowest of three bidders at $1,557.

Local hotel is robbed

A Romulus hotel on the 30000 block of Flynn Drive was targeted for armed robbery at 4:15 a.m. Sunday.

Police officials said the 28-year-old clerk at the hotel was approached by two men. One carried a large, black semiautomatic handgun.

After tying up the clerk, the suspects managed to remove a 1-by-1-by-3-foot drop box from beneath the service counter. Police said the suspects wheeled the box away on a cart.

The clerk, who was uninjured, was able to free himself and call the police shortly after the suspects fled, according to reports.

Inkster police later found the empty box in their community.

Police said most of the money in the box was in check form.

The first suspect in this case is a black male, 5-foot-8-inches, 225 pounds, wearing a blue ski mask, blue sweater and black trousers. He carried the weapon.

The second suspect is a black male, 5-foot-10-inches, 160 pounds with a slim build. He wore a green ski mask, red jacket and brown trousers.

Merriman Road repair planned

A 600-foot section of Merriman Road will be repaired soon through an agreement between Romulus and Wayne County.

City councilmembers approved the agreement Tuesday night based on a recommendation from Mayor Beverly McAnally.

Approximately six inches of asphalt will be placed at the repair area near Pennsylvania Road.

McAnally said Merriman was damaged during efforts to improve Pennsylvania.

Romulus will contribute $13,200 toward this repair project.

Board meeting rescheduled

Because of the Memorial Day holiday, the Romulus Board of Education meeting has been delayed to 7:30 p.m. June 11.

The meeting will be staged at the school administrative building at 36540 Grant Road.

Resident finds gravestone

A Romulus resident discovered a gravestone May 23 dating back more than 100 years.

According to police reports, the 18-by-20-inch marker was found in a field near Ridgebrook Path and Leroy Street.

The off-white stone read "M. Taggart, 1871."

Police said additional writing on the stone is not legible.

Body builder is pride of local family

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Renee Musing is a master juggler.

Between an occasional engineering class, she fits in a career in computer science, a husband, an 11-year-old son and regular sessions in the weight room.

Musing, who won the Atlantic USA Body Building Championship last December, said her ultimate goal is to compete in the Olympics two years from now on the first United States body-building team.

Her parents, Lex and Savilla Johnson, said they know Musing can do it. The Romulus couple has been following their daughter's accomplishments since she moved to Huntsville, Alabama, with her husband, Ron.

"She's got a whole wall of trophies," Savilla said proudly. "She's a very good daughter. She's loveable. She's smart. She has so much energy, and she's so bubbly."

Born in Ypsilanti, Musing came to Romulus as a kindergarten and graduated from Romulus Senior High School. When she started her college education at Michigan State University, Musing planned to become a pediatrician.

A later decision to pursue computer science seems to have paid off. In her second contract for Boeing, she is now working on computer-aided design for the Space Station Freedom.

Musing is also in the middle of training for a July competition. Daily after work she meets her husband at the Huntsville Gym to prepare her muscles. She spends four to six hours a session lifting weights, practicing aerobics and working out her routine for the stage.

During a telephone interview, Musing said her husband is partially responsible for her initiation into body building.

"I've been working out in health clubs since I was 16," she said.

Musing said it was in a gym where she met her husband. The weight room was where he spent most of his time. The best way to spend time with him was to start working out regularly herself, she said.

Now the workouts must be balanced with full-time work and family. Musing hits the pillow harder at night, but she said there is no secret to her accomplishments.

"I just have to figure out a way to do it, and I do it."

Musing points out the workouts are far from a burden to her.

"I just love it. After every contest I say I'm going to take two or three weeks off and not do anything. After two or three days I start going crazy."

The thrill of competition is only part of the draw, Musing said.

"You go into the gym and work out... You're able to press 400 pounds with your legs, and you started with 50... You're muscles are more defined. You have less body fat," she said.

"The hardest part is probably the diet," she added.

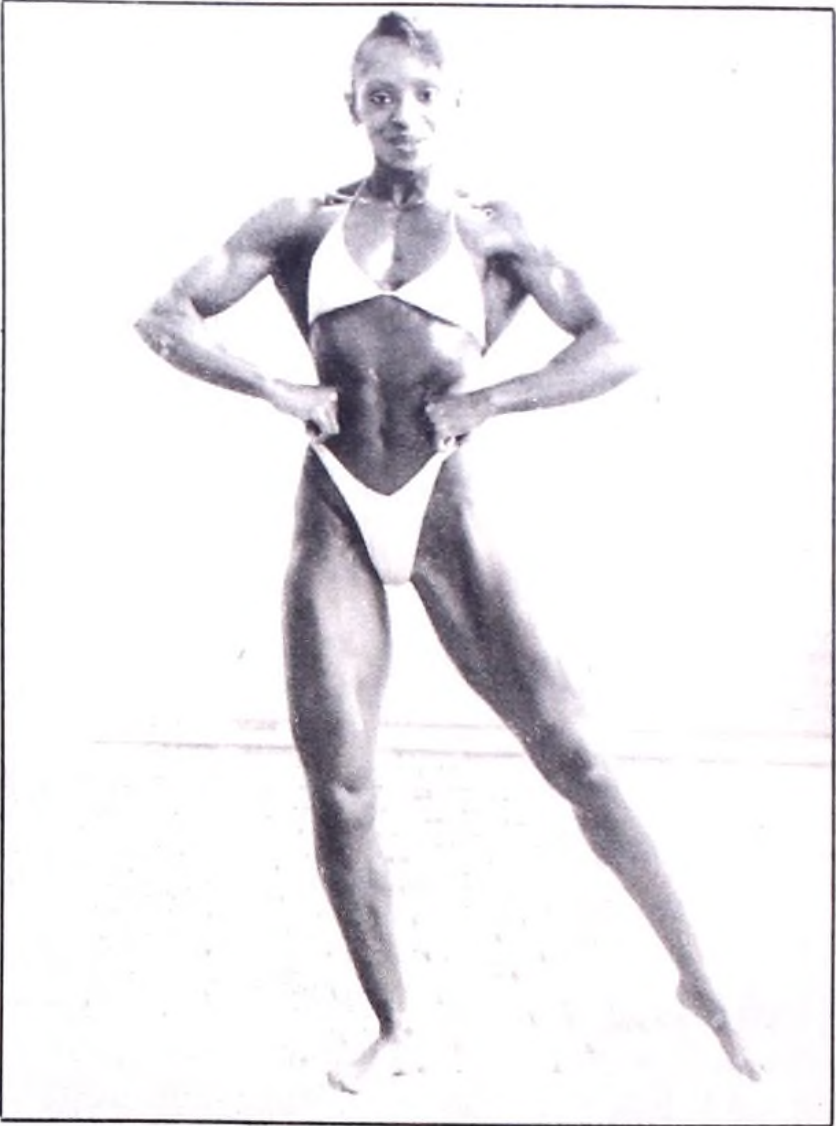

As long as she's training, Musing sticks to a strict diet of egg whites, vegetables, boiled chicken and fish. Off-season, she said, her body fat is 12 percent. During training she lowers the ratio to six percent. Average body fat for women is 18 to 23 percent.

However, even in a "zero fat" diet, Musing said she ends up eating tiny portions of it anyhow.

"Almost everything you eat has some form of fat in it, apples, potatoes."

As Musing continues her efforts in body building, the sport is gaining more acceptance worldwide. She said people saw it in its worst form a few years ago when women started to abuse steroids to "pump up."

"I think when body-building first started it was a little more acceptable," she said, adding approval diminished as drugs came on the scene. "Then, not only were women getting big, they were turning into men."

Renee Musing poses during the recent Atlantic USA Bodybuilding Championship in Atlanta. The former Romulus resident said she dreams of competing in the Olympics. Photo special to ANP

Man charged in son's beating death will go to trial

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Michael Anthony May will go to trial on second-degree murder charges for the death of his 3 1/2-month-old son.

The 26-year-old Romulus man was bound over to Recorder's Court during his preliminary examination May 24 before Judge Henry Zaborowski of the 34th District Court in Romulus.

May is scheduled for arraignment June 6 at the Frank Murphy Hall of Justice. Bond was continued at $100,000, and the defendant will remain in Wayne County jail in lieu of payment.

Romulus detectives interviewed May early May 8 in connection with the death of his son, Kyle. The infant died April 22 of brain death and a broken neck.

When the defendant first called police to his home, he reportedly told them his son stopped breathing when he accidentally dropped the child down a stairway.

Rescue workers transported the baby to Annapolis Hospital in Wayne. Upon arrival, the child was not showing vital signs. Hospital workers were able to resuscitate him.

Later that day, Kyle was taken to the University of Michigan Medical Center in Ann Arbor.

The baby died there at 10:08 a.m. April 22.

The Romulus Detective Bureau began investigating the case after the initial call from May. Detectives interviewed the child's 26-year-old mother, rescue workers, hospital staff and the defendant.

An autopsy report supplied to detectives indicated the baby had several broken ribs in various stages of healing.

Police said that report suggests the baby was a victim of child abuse.

In his statement during a second interview with detectives, May said he was shaking the baby the day of the injury. May, according to police reports, said he threw the baby into his crib where the child hit his head.

Trial begins in baby assault case

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Trial proceedings were to begin today for a 17-year-old Romulus teen charged with the sexual assault of an infant girl.

Marcel Mario Dixon will appear before Recorder's Court Judge Michael Talbot at the Frank Murphy Hall of Justice.

Police began investigating this case in late October after the victim's 18-year-old mother asked the defendant to care for her 15-month-old child while she was at work.

The mother told police officers she left for work at 3 p.m. Oct. 25 and returned at approximately 11 p.m.

The following morning, the mother noticed her baby was severely injured while changing the infant's diaper.

Dixon was charged with the assault in early November, and has remained in Wayne County jail.

The defendant could face life in prison if found guilty of the criminal sexual conduct charges.

the building comes to $39,000. A more realistic figure for the program budget would be $10,000, she said.

Head Start programs in some other communities have free use of buildings because they serve the local children, Donald added.

A second concern is the condition of the former elementary school. Pressing needs include a new roof, repairs to the heating system and grating for the dirt parking lot.

"We are in desperate need of a new location. We're putting out a plea to someone who can supply us with a building," she said.

When Head Start officials began their search for a new home in 1988, they approached the Romulus board of education in the hopes of moving into an empty school building.

That possibility fizzled out when Head Start officials were unable to find an empty school building large enough for their needs.

The one school that would have been large enough was Hayti Elementary School, Douglas said. But the empty school has similar repair problems.

Board members did discuss moving the program into a school still in use, but Douglas said that option has been tabled for further discussion.

Meanwhile, Head Start officials find themselves facing a deadline. They have given themselves two options - negotiate a better rent and repairs for the building with Wayne Metro officials or find a new building by fall.

"If we don't, we won't be able to service the Romulus families," Douglas said.

Head Start faces further limitations because it cannot purchase property or fund building repairs. However, Headstart officials are now willing to relocate outside city limits.

Douglas said one option under consideration is a portion of the Wayne County Community College campus on Haggerty Road in Van Buren Township.

They are also enlisting the efforts of the program parent club.

"They understand what's going on. Perhaps they can do something," Douglas said. "The children who attend our headstart program are the people who will attend Romulus Community Schools."

Douglas said Head Start is more of a socialization program than an educational one.

The curriculum always focuses upon hands-on activities, Donald said, and pupils are taught self-help skills.

In addition to teachers, the program employs a speech and language specialist, a nurse, a nutritionist and a social worker.

New officers

During a special meeting May 23, City Clerk Linda Choate (above) swore in new officers and board members to the Greater Romulus Chamber of Commerce. New officers include Dennis Worsley, president; Donna Hoevemeyer, first vice president; Mark Paladino, second vice president; Wendy Dixon, secretary and Jason Lovette, treasurer. Tragedy strikes area family twice

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP Staff Writer

A 25-year-old Garden City man was killed Thursday after the car in which he was riding hit another car on Middlebelt Road just north of Ann Arbor Trail.

Terence Balinski was pronounced dead at Garden City Hospital, shortly after 8 p.m. the time the accident occurred. Balinski was a passenger in the car.

The driver of the automobile was treated at Garden City Hospital for minor injuries and released.

The driver, according to Officer Thomas Hisong of the Westland Police Department, had been drinking as was determined by tests. The driver was released pending investigation, but Hisong said he will more than likely be charged with manslaughter later this week.

"The victim (Balinski) was in a friend's car and both had been drinking," Hisong said.

The driver of the second car was Holly Welch, 25, of Romulus. Last month Welch's husband was killed when he was struck in the chest with a softball during a game.

Welch suffered minor injuries and was treated and released at Garden City Hospital.

Census return better than average

By BARBARA GOFFMAN
ANP Special Writer

Residents of Belleville, Canton Township, Inkster, Romulus, Wayne and Westland have surpassed the national average of returning census forms, said Randy Edwards, the local area manager of the U.S. Census Bureau. Wayne, at 78.7 percent, has the greatest check-in rate, he said.

The return rate for Inkster is 66.3 percent, said Stephen Berry, co-chairman of the Inkster Census Committee. That figure is the lowest of the six communities.

Only 63 percent of citizens nationwide have returned their census forms; for Michigan, the check-in rate is 72 percent, Edwards said.

Local officials have fielded many calls from residents regarding the census. Some people did not receive the form, some received more than one, some had trouble filling it out and others did not want to answer some of the monetary questions, which they felt were an unnecessary invasion of privacy.

Whole streets and senior citizen complexes in Westland received no census forms, said Westland Census Coordinator Joseph Benyo.

Wayne received 30 calls from people who did not get forms, said Debbie Manns, an economic development technician for the city of Wayne.

Romulus officials met with similar problems.

"There were 82 Romulus houses that were not on the census list," said Jeff Martell, the city census coordinator.

"The census bought a bad mailing list from somewhere."

The Old Testament Tabernacle

and God spoke to Moses, "BUILD ME A TABERNACLE SO I CAN DWELL WITH MY PEOPLE."

THE OLD TESTAMENT TABERNACLE IS THE ONLY FULL SCALE DUPLICATION OF THE ORIGINAL TABERNACLE IN THE UNITED STATES WHICH IS IN FULL VIEW FOR VISITORS TO SEE WITHOUT CHARGE. THE TABERNACLE STORY BOOKLET IS ALSO GIVEN to those who register and take the Tabernacle tour.

YOU WILL BE INTERESTED, BECAUSE

Down thru the years; pastors, priests, Bible scholars and teachers have studied the tabernacle story and the many sacrifices. Some church groups have even built small miniature duplications of the tabernacle to use as models in teaching and study.

In the Book of Exodus, God gave Moses, in addition to the 10 Commandments, the construction plans and materials list for the building of the tabernacle.

NOW FOR THE FIRST TIME IN THE UNITED STATES YOU CAN SEE A FULL SIZE REPLICA OF THE OUTER COURT, TABERNACLE AND FURNISHINGS.

This is a South Eastern Michigan TOURIST ATTRACTION, and it is free of charge.

The full-scale duplication of the Old Testament Tabernacle at United Memorial Gardens in Plymouth is the only one of its type in the country.

Old Testament Tabernacle relives biblical history

WHEN ED WENSLEY decided to construct this building, he didn't look in the phone book for an architect. The owner of United Memorial Gardens Inc. in Plymouth just let his fingers do the walking in the Good Book. The blueprint for the Old Testament Tabernacle was in the Bible.

By consulting the best designer of all, Wensley has reproduced the Old Testament Tabernacle in its original size. The full-scale replica is the only one of its kind in the country.

And anyone interested in biblical history would find the display to his/her interest. "(People) can learn how God dwelt with his people during biblical times," said Wensley, who took eight months to construct the tabernacle.

CHURCH GROUPS and Sunday school classes have come in droves to hear the story behind the Old Testament Tabernacle.

Census

They missed a lot of people," he said.

City officials have sent the names and addresses of missed homes to the Census Bureau.

The check-in-rate percentage for Belleville is 77.4; Canton, 78; Romulus, 70; and Westland, 77.9 percent. Officials have used several methods to encourage residents to return the forms.

Inkster, Wayne and Westland had trained volunteers available at their city halls in late March and early April to help residents complete the forms.

In Westland and Wayne, workers were also sent to senior citizen complexes to help the blind and ill fill out the forms. Placemats with census information were distributed to area restaurants.

Inkster officials distributed census information to ministers, senior centers and housing units. They also gave 5,000 buttons to community school children which urged citizens to return the census. In early March, brochures were mailed to Belleville residences explaining the census and stressing the importance of a response.

Romulus officials are targeting now the area north of Ecorse Road with a flyer and cover letter from the mayor urging people to return the census and to call the city if they have questions. That section of the city has a 58 percent return rate, in contrast to some subdivisions south of Middlebelt, which has an 86 percent check-in-rate.

Officials of each city have expressed positive sentiments regarding the check-in rates.

"Wayne has gone above and beyond the national average," said Wayne City Manager Thomas Daily. He calls the check-in rate a citizens.

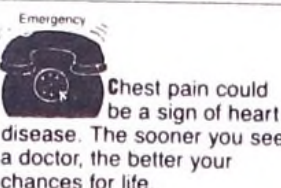

Berry said the current Inkster return rate is "lower than I expected. But all across the country the return rate is lower now than it was 10 years ago. Inkster is not an exception."

Census enumerators are currently visiting homes which have not returned the form.

Citizens with questions can call a Census Bureau Hotline, at 1-800-999-1990. Senator Donald Riegle's federal affairs specialist also is available to answer questions. His number is 517-377-1713.

Make it a happy day

Within a few weeks, thousands of local residents will experience what is likely to be the most emotion-packed day of their lives.

They will bid adieu to friends and teachers who have known them for what seems a lifetime and they will move on to a more adult world of college, career, marriage or whatever else the future holds for them.

With great exuberance and abandon will they celebrate the day that they march to "Pomp and Circumstance" wearing gown and mortarboard to pick up their treasured diploma.

They have worked long hours to earn that piece of paper and all that goes along with it. A celebration is certainly in order.

That celebration, however, must not turn to reckless abandon. It is against the law for minors to drink alcohol. It is against the law for anyone, of any age, to drive while under the influence of alcohol. It is against the law to serve alcohol to minors in your home or in restaurants.

These are the guidelines that should be kept in the back of every graduate's mind as they embark on their new lives.

A graduation celebration – or any party for that matter – can be ruined quickly by the reckless antics of a drunken guest. More importantly, what is there to celebrate when someone is needlessly killed on the road as a result of that reckless behavior.

The answer is simple. Do not make alcohol a part of your celebration plans. Go out on a limb and host an alcohol-free party. Then you can celebrate with a clear head remembering the wonderful things about high school that you will miss.

Parents hosting parties for graduates in their homes should be well aware of the legal ramifications of serving alcohol to minors. If they leave your home and are the cause of an accident, you are as guilty as they are. Do not serve alcohol to your party guests, not even your own children. You will stand a much better chance of remembering the day as a happy one.

Some communities have established great traditions among graduates. Plymouth-Canton parents should be proud of the strides they have made in keeping graduates safe while providing them with an outlet for their excitement.

The all-night graduation party at Centennial Educational Park keeps graduates (and only graduates) entertained all night long with music, food, beverages, games and contests. Graduates who leave the party before it ends are not permitted back into the building, thus avoiding the possibility of graduates leaving, drinking alcohol, and then returning.

This is a great idea that Plymouth-Canton students have come to appreciate, and the community has come to support.

Other communities and parents groups should consider similar action to protect their children.

Graduation should be a happy time for the students as well as their family. That can all change quickly, however, when alcohol is involved.

Have a great graduation day and be safe.

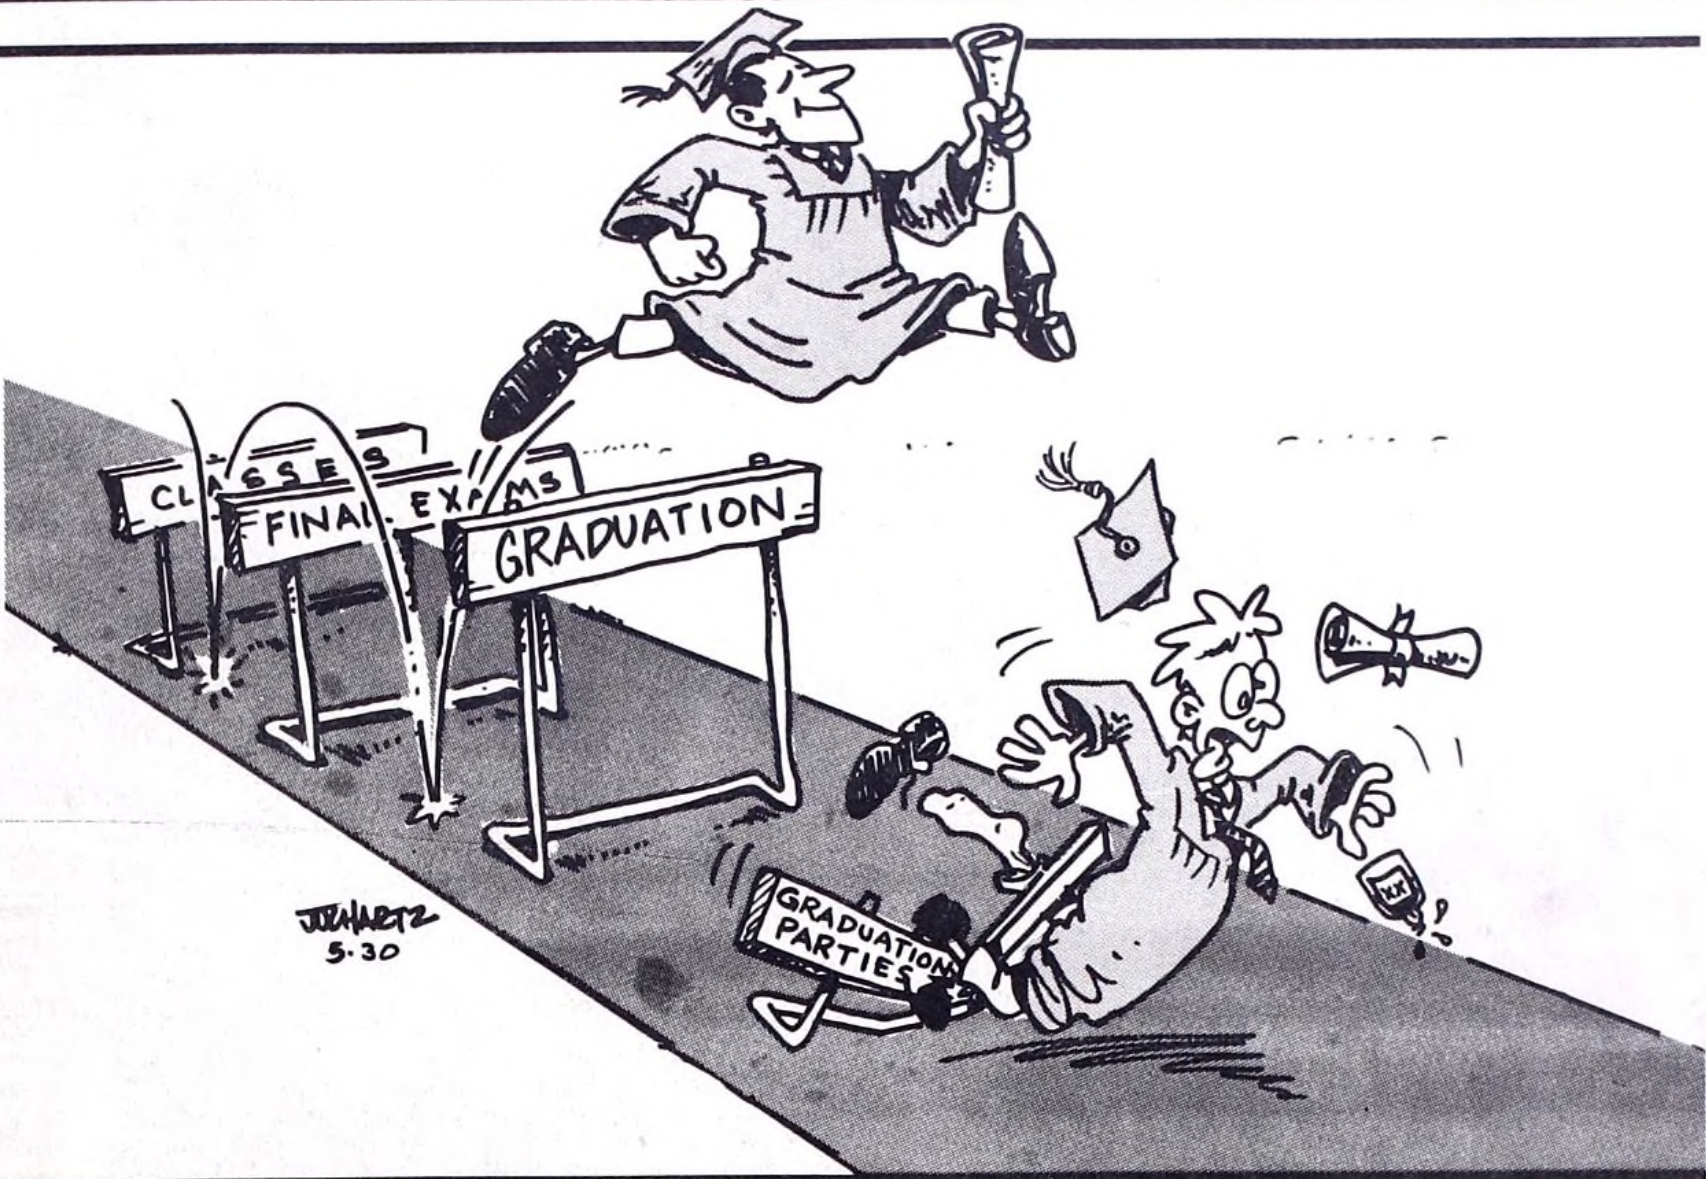

They come in all shapes, sizes

As 17- and 18-year-olds don cap and gown to celebrate their high school graduation, let us not forget those who have waited almost their entire lives to earn their diplomas.

Special congratulations go to area senior citizens who after so many years returned to school and are to receive their diplomas this week.

These graduates are well-aware of the significance of the day and deserve praise. They have jumped hurdle after hurdle to achieve this one goal and they have finally made it.

Hats off to these exceptional graduates!

A good investment

Recently I read in the Westland Eagle about the millage proposal. I am a firm believer that investing in our children's education is always profitable. The concern of the June 11 ballot is not to make our school system better and more improved, it is only to keep it functional. Without the renewal our schools will suffer a dramatic loss! That loss will affect our schools in the form of many cutbacks that are being made. Those cutbacks are going to affect our children! All of this will affect our communities. We need to be responsible parents and citizens, vote yes to pass the millage to save our schools and our children's future!

Pride in hometown

I am a resident of Wayne and attend the University of Detroit Jesuit High School. I have a new pride for Wayne when I look at the progress that is being made toward a cleaner earth. It appears to me that the citizens of Wayne are concerned about the environment. It also looks as though the city council is doing its part in establishing recycling programs. I believe the new recycling drop-off center is a great idea and will be successful. This productive program and others that will follow will bring the Wayne community closer together while enhancing the environment around us. Wayne may be small geography-wise but if we all work together we can certainly make a large difference when it comes to the environment for the future.

Inkster missed boat

I am a fifteen-year-old citizen of Inkster, and I attend U of D Jesuit High School. I am concerned and disappointed with our city's lack of thorough participation in Earth Day. It is true that Inkster is not a vacation spot, but it is not a war zone either. We, the citizens of Inkster, should take the initiative and responsibility to help make our city a better place to live. I don't think that it is asking too much to go outside and pick up paper on the ground or sweeping up glass particles. We need to take care of our city by at least trying to clean it up.

Athlete is disappointed

Speaking as a student athlete, but more importantly, as an involved student, I am not looking forward to next year. The senior year is supposed to be the best year of your life. It won't be for the coming seniors if the millage doesn't pass on June 11. All extracurricular activities will be cut – band, art, drama, and sports. This means no homecoming game next year. Homecoming is one of the most important things that all students look forward to, but it is up to the voters whether we have one or not. Don't let us miss out on what you have already had. We are counting on you.

Failure is fatal blow

I am a junior at John Glenn High School and I will enter my senior year next fall. I believe it will be a fatal blow to the quality of education for our entire community if the June 11th millage does not pass.

We will be faced with several cuts for the next school year: cuts in the elementary school expressive arts program, a reduction of the junior high school day to five hours, and the elimination of all extracurricular activities. We cannot allow this to happen to our district – this is Wayne-Westland, not Belleville or Taylor.

I encourage every voter in our district to vote YES on June 11th because over 17,000 students are counting on you.

Reporting a crime

It's no wonder a person doesn't want to report a law breaker. When one calls the police in this town, the police give you a sermon about the law, act as though the caller is bothering them, need the caller's life history and as far as I know never bother to follow up on the call. Such an attitude makes the public feel unimportant and the criminal has won his case before it gets started.

Parental consent is not dead yet

Has the parental consent issue died down since it hit the Governor's desk? Not hardly! Pro-lifers everywhere are planning numerous activities in the near future. The recent veto of parental consent legislation by Gov. Blanchard has resulted in a new initiative by RIGHT TO LIFE OF MICHIGAN and its many affiliates. The committee is called CITIZENS FOR PARENTS' RIGHTS (CPR) and it's reminiscent of the successful effort of Proposal A in 1987 which ended tax-funded abortions in the state of Michigan.

RLM affiliates, including ROMULUS RIGHT TO LIFE, will be distributing petitions in hopes of collecting 192,000 signatures within 180 days. This initiative will be instrumental in restoring appropriate protections and rights for both teens and parents. Upon validation of signatures, the measure goes to the Legislature, where, if a majority vote rules in both House and Senate, the bill automatically becomes law with no chance of a veto by the Governor.

ROMULUS RIGHT TO LIFE encourages all to get involved in the pro-life movement at this most challenging and exciting time.

Former resident mixes gardening, engineering

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Referred to as a "pioneer in gardening" by his former employees, retired Belleville businessman Fred Blackmore Sr. now has a new title, "Grower of the Year."

Blackmore was honored earlier this year at the Michigan Floral Association 1990 Spring Convention and Trade Fair, staged at the Hyatt Regency-Dearborn.

Blackmore's son, Skip, accepted the award on behalf of his father at the President's Banquet and Ball at the MFA annual convention.

Blackmore, founder of the Blackmore Co. in Belleville, retired to Florida five years ago. The business continues.

His former co-workers said Blackmore did not begin his career in the horticulture industry. In fact, his bachelor's degree from Michigan State University is in electrical engineering.

It was in 1951 that Blackmore's career path changed.

He was chief engineer for the Lus Trus Company in Ypsilanti when approached by two growers with a challenge.

Blackmore was asked to create a plastic container for plant production. At the time, gardeners were using paper mache cups and peat pots for that purpose.

"I was totally unaware of problems were," Blackmore recalled. "They showed me what they were growing in, and I developed the plastic containers."

Blackmore then moved on to a conjoined eight-pack known as the 8-0-1.

By 1954, these packs were sold to the Ball Co. on an exclusive basis. By 1956 most of the flats used in Michigan were the plastic variety, according to MFA representatives.

When the Ypsilanti company began experiencing production problems, Blackmore decided to take a chance and form his own business. Horticulture, he said, tied in with his interest in engineering.

"It's a small industry. I felt there hadn't been many people investigating the problems, especially the mechanical problems," he said.

The Blackmore Co. was formed in 1966, producing flats for growers in southeastern Michigan and Ohio.

David Steiner is now vice president of the company. He said Blackmore after founding the business engineered a transplant machine that moves seedlings from one tray to another.

He also invented a seeding machine.

"That revolutionized the way plants are produced around the world," Steiner said.

Michigan Floral Association President Kristi Flatt (left) presents the Grower of the Year award to Skip Blackmore, who accepted the award on behalf of his father, Fred Blackmore Sr. Fred Blackmore Sr. was honored at the floral association 1990 spring convention and trade fair. Photo special to ANP

Previously, growers sprinkled seeds on the ground, he explained. The machine can place one seed in a tiny cell in the ground.

That method allows for enhanced growth and greater viability of the plant, Steiner said, it gives plants a better chance of survival.

Steiner said Blackmore worked every step of the way to make his company a success.

"He had to work like a dog," Steiner said.

Even as a retiree, Blackmore receives occasional calls from the company staff.

"We periodically drag him out of retirement. He's the brains behind the operation," Steiner said.

In fact, Blackmore two years ago helped develop a high-speed seeder known as the Rotary. It can achieve sowing rates in excess of 300,000 seeds per hour.

Now, Blackmore's former staff is threatening to hide his award, a simple threat to bring him back to Michigan.

Blackmore took the news about his award rather modestly, said Blackmore Sales Manager Larry James.

"He was excited and surprised. We weren't. It was long overdue."

Blackmore said he does plan to visit his company during an August trip to Michigan. His son, Skip, is now in charge.

"He wants me to come back for a month. He says he has a project for me. I have no idea what it is," Blackmore said. "At least I'll get to see the award that I won."

Belleville plays for district softball crown

River Rats shut out Tigers, 2-0

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

"It was a bad time to lose." That's how Belleville coach John Bertz worded it after his Tigers fell victim to an unheralded Ann Arbor Huron in a pre-district game of the Class A baseball playoffs.

"There were no indications at all of what was in store for us, especially since we had won the last three outings," Bertz said.

Behind Paras Parekh's four hit pitching, the River Rats upset Belleville 2-0 to qualify for the district playoffs. Two unearned runs were the difference.

Parekh fanned eight and didn't walk a batter, while losing pitcher Jeremy Ison, who also gave up four hits, struck out eight and walked two.

Belleville stranded runners in the first inning, when Vince Sacco doubled with one-away, then Brian Boike led off the third with a base hit, and in the sixth, with two-away, Sacco and Mike Coleman each drilled base hits, but there wasn't enough hitting power in the bottom of the lineup to score them.

Huron will advance to John Glenn on Saturday to play Adrian in the 10 a.m. game; Plymouth Salem tackles Ypsilanti at noon. The championship will be decided at 3 p.m.

Belleville took an 8-6 Wolverine 'A' and a 10-12-1 overall record into the final week of the 1990 campaign.

Earlier in the week, Kevin Trumbull chalked up an 11-10 victory over Monroe for the Tigers. He took over from starter Jason Henderson.

Ison clubbed a two-out, two-run homer in the bottom of the 10th to seal the victory for the Tigers.

Belleville also won a thriller from Wayne Memorial, 3-2, as Sacco laced a single to score Ison in the fifth with what proved to be the winning run. Ison was the winning pitcher in relief.

Belleville ganged up on Wyandotte, 9-3, as Sacco again came through for the Tigers with a pair of hits. Mike Gentz chipped in three RBI thanks to a two-for-two day at the plate, while Todd Yocum doubled and singled for the winners.

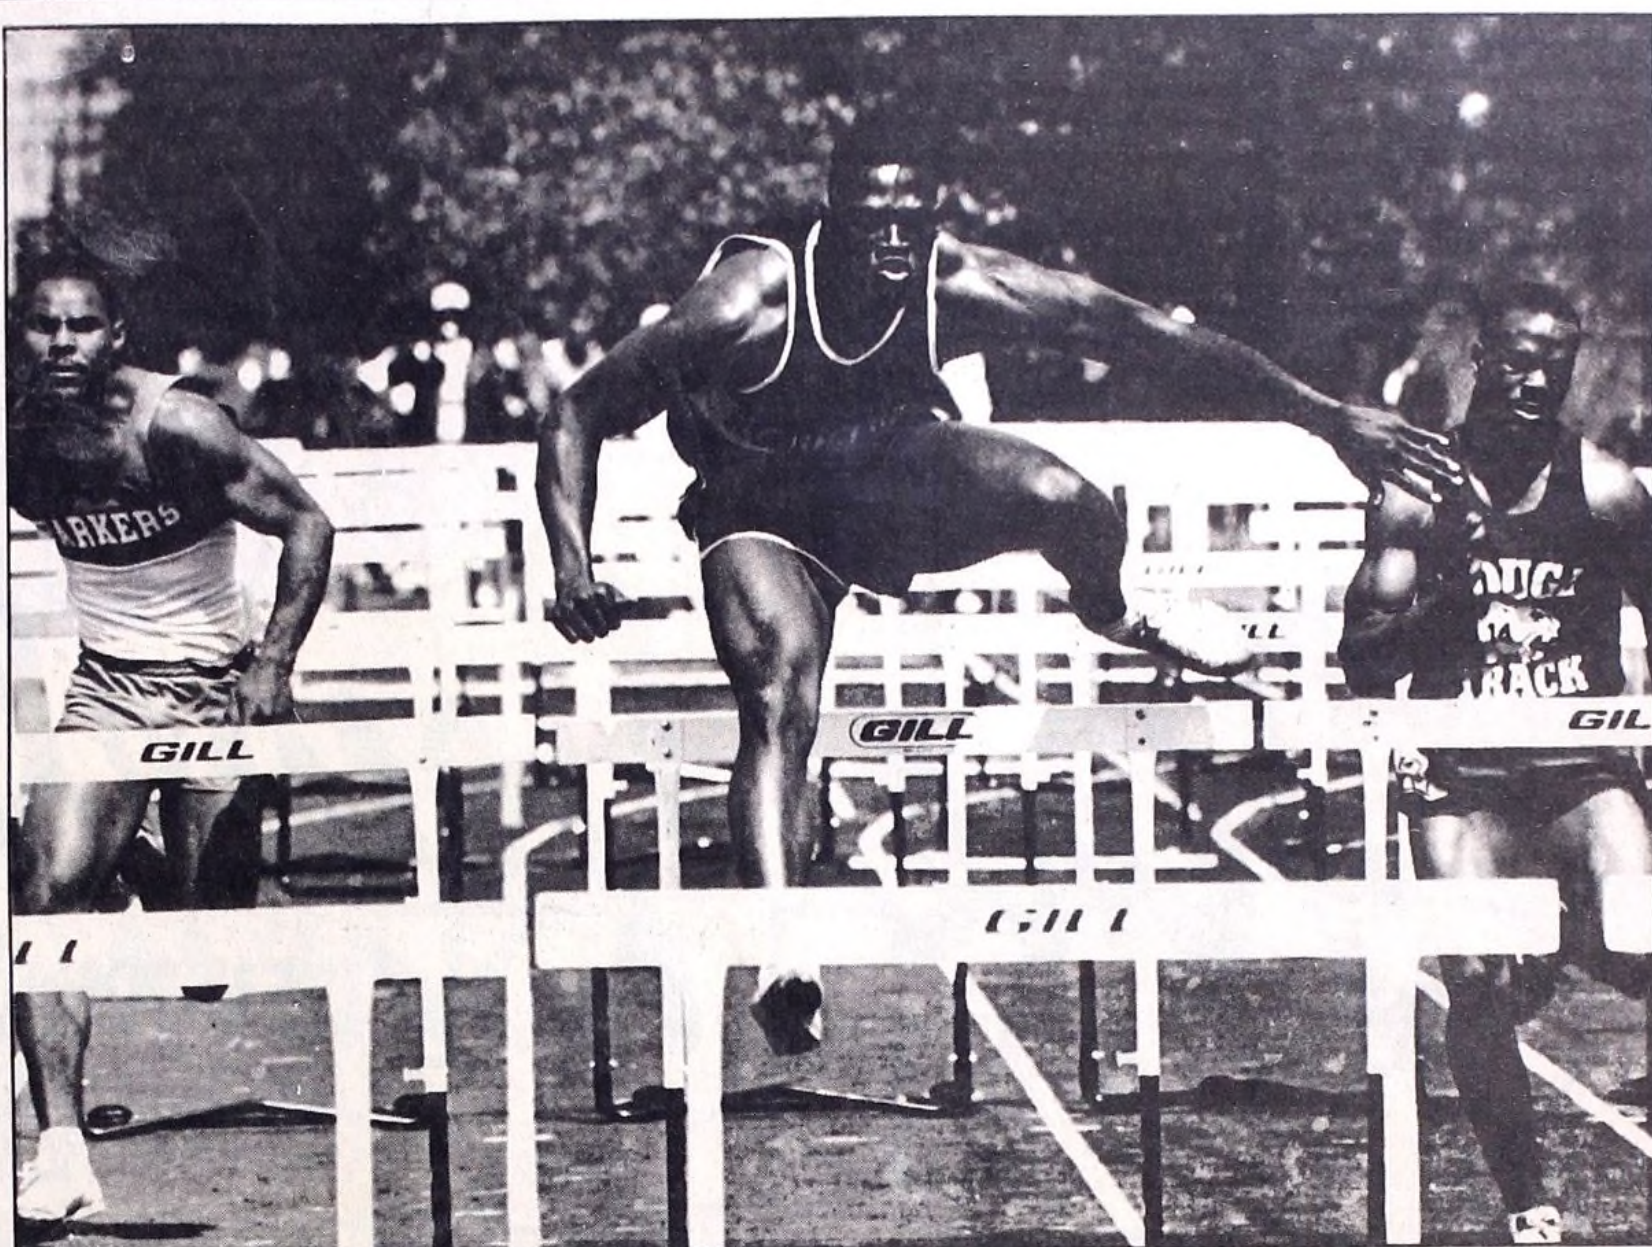

In other baseball action, Romulus split a doubleheader with South Central Conference rival, Ann Arbor Pioneer, winning the opener 9-3, but dropping the second game, 11-5.

Rich Evans stayed undefeated on the mound for the Eagles. He scattered seven Pioneer hits in his 6 1/3 innings on the mound to chalk up his fourth victory in as many starts this year. Eddie Tank got the save.

Tom Patterson accounted for three hits - all singles - and scored three times, while Tank had four RBI for his two-for-three day. Ed King and Steve Honeycutt each had two hits, with Honeycutt accounting for two RBI. Romulus also received two hits from Ken Blevins.

In the nightcap, Romulus struck for two runs in the first inning, but Pioneer came back and scored three times in their same frame, added three more in the second to rout Tank from the box. Tank lasted 1 2/3 innings before he gave way to Tim Dufore, who allowed only one run in his 2 1/3 innings of work. King finished up for the Eagles.

Winning pitcher Chih Chang was tagged for six hits, including two to Honeycutt, who had two RBI. Honeycutt saw his over-the-fence homer turned into a RBI triple because he took off his helmet "two steps away from the home plate" and was called out.

Although it may have been a recently new experience for Robichaud junior Tyrone Wheatley to compete in the high hurdles, it has taken charge. Wheatley, seen leading the pack in the picture above, turned in a 14.8 for the event to capture one of four gold medals at the 1990 suburban Athletic Conference track & field championships. He also claimed victories in the shot put, 100-meter dash and anchored the winning half-mile relay. Wheatley and the Bulldogs will pack up their gear on Saturday and travel to Flint to compete in the Class B state finals. Wheatley is the defending 100-meter and long jump state champ. Wheatley dominates track

Multi-talented Tyrone Wheatley single-handedly accounted for three of Robichaud's first places, participated on a winning relay, but it wasn't enough for the Bulldogs who finished second in the final Suburban Athletic Conference Track & Field standings.

River Rouge managed to overcome Robichaud to win the 1990 SAC title. The Panthers, who had lost to Robichaud during the dual meet season, cashed in their depth for 165 points, 29 points more than second-place finishing Robichaud.

Robichaud track coach after the Bulldogs finished second at the SAC championships.

place after the regular dual meet season. "Despite winning the majority of events," said Robichaud coach Leit Jones, "we just didn't have enough firepower to offset Rouge's depth."

Trailing the champ and runner-up were: Highland Park (87), Inkster (38), Willow Run (34), Oak Park (25) and Ecorse (27).

Wheatley, the defending Class B state champ in both the long jump and the 100-meter dash, captured the league title in the 100 in a 10.78. He made his debut in the shot put and picked up another gold for his put of 48 feet, 3 inches. The 17-year-old junior also struck gold for his performance in the 120-yard high hurdles as he turned in a 14.8 effort.

Wheatley teamed up with Romney Smith, Omar Julius, and Fred Mathews to win the 880-yard relay in 1:31.1.

Robichaud received a sterling effort out of its senior distance runner, Jeremy Sullivan who was a double-winner.

Sullivan covered the mile in the winning time of 4:40.2. He also ruled the two-mile event, pouring the distance in 9:47.1.

Jones, a veteran coach who returned to the ranks after a seven-year hiatus, also had the best two-mile relay and the 440-yard relay teams in the league this season.

In the two-mile, the Bulldogs went with Franchot Hayes, Jabec Gray, Robert Stewart and Sullivan, who combined for an 8:38.7 finish. In the 440, Robichaud won with Romney Smith, Derrick Rendles, Omar Julius and Fred Mathews.

Edwards, Gulliver win track titles

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Andre Edwards and Brian Gulliver added Wolverine 'A' Conference titles to their increasing track accomplishments this year.

Coming off of victories at the regional, the two Belleville High athletes led the Tigers at the annual conference championship. Edwards won two individual events and took part on a second-place finishing relay, while Gulliver proved to be the best discus tosser in the league.

Gulliver's toss of 154 feet, 9 inches proved to be the best effort of the afternoon.

In the meantime, Edwards came up with gold-medal performances in the dashes. He won the 100-meter event in a 10.8, then came back and captured his second gold with a 22.2. Edwards was the anchor for the Tigers 800-meter relay that finished second to Wayne Memorial in the event. James Craig, Lee Bradford and Rob Priebe joined Edwards in the lineup.

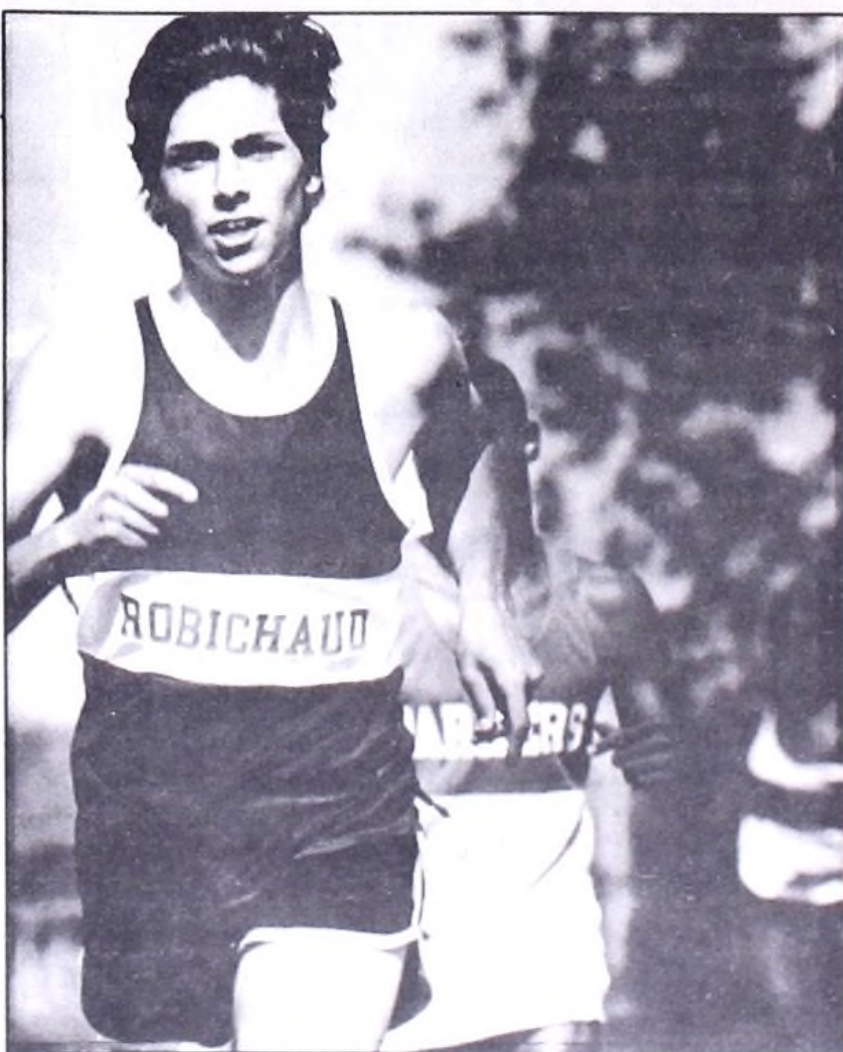

Belleville's only other medal in the men's division came off of Jason Kidwell's performance in the two-mile run. He finished in 19.09.

Undefeated Monroe captured the 1990 championships with 39-points to spare over runner up Wayne Memorial (124). The field also included Fordson (89), Belleville (67), Wyandotte (33), Trenton (12), Southgate Anderson (6) and Lincoln Park (2).

Over in the women's division, Belleville freshman Ann Gray proved she will be a power to contend with in the distance events as she won the two-mile conference title in 11:54.6 and also earned a third-place medal for her 5:34.2 in the mile run. She was the lone champ for the Tigers.

Belleville's Lawanda Smith was runner-up in both the 100-meter (12.9) and the 200-meter (27.3) dashes.

Monroe fought off Wayne Memorial, 109-103, to win its second first-place team trophy of the meet. Trenton finished third (92), followed by Wyandotte (42), Belleville (41), Southgate (38) and Lincoln Park (26).

Robichaud's Jeremy Sullivan (above) brought the curtains down on his Suburban Athletic Conference career by winning two events and helping win a third. The 18-year-old senior picked up gold medals for his performances in the mile and two-mile events, and he was also a member of the winning two-mile relay unit. Tigers to meet Canton

ANP Staff Writer

A cliffhanging 9-7 victory over Westland John Glenn last week assured the Tigers of Belleville a berth in the Class A district tournament.

And it also assured Coach Peggy Curtis' club a date with Plymouth-Canton, one of the top-ranked softball teams in the state this year.

The district championships will be decided on Saturday, June 2.

"They (Canton) have an outstanding record," said Curtis after her Tigers held off a rallying Glenn team. "We can't continue to mess up on defense and expect to win."

The Belleville-Canton game is scheduled for noon at Glenn. In the first round, Ann Arbor Pioneer will take on Adrian at 10 a.m., with the two winners playing for the district championship at 2 p.m. The district champ will advance to the regional playoffs, slated for the following weekend.

Belleville rallied for five runs in the first inning to rout losing pitcher Diane Kowtko from the mound. The Glenn hurler gave up a leadoff double to Kesha Wilson, who scored when Tanya Kjellin singled. Then Marcy Korgal walked, and Kelly Rochon drove in Kjellin with a single. Walks to Linda Pasek, Sonya Arp, Heather Dickenson and Carrie Gephardt forced Kowtko to the sidelines.

Winning pitcher Dawn Rochowiak, who gave up 11 hits, fanned three and walked an equal number, weakened in the final two innings when she gave up two and five runs, respectively, but she managed to thwart the Rockets to post the victory.

After splitting with number one-ranked Flushing at the Waterford Mott Invitational, Curtis believes her team is

Vikings ousted

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Inkster's dreams of a Class B district baseball playoff berth turned into a nightmare last week as Allen Park turned back the Vikings, 12-0, in a pre-district game.

"Allen Park has an excellent team," pointed out Inkster coach Jerome Orr, "and we didn't do anything out there to dispel their image. We didn't look like the team we were earlier in the week."

Earlier in the week, behind Charlie Adams' pitching, the Vikings pounded River Rouge 17-7 as Bernard Reeves, Maurice Bell, and Tyron Orr paced a 15-hit assault.

Reeves and Bell split four singles apiece, while Orr chipped in three hits, including a three-bagger.

Inkster has a makeup doubleheader with Suburban Athletic Conference rival, Oak Park, today. That will conclude the 1990 season for sophomore coach Orr and the Vikings.

The Vikings have amassed a 5-10 SAC and a 6-12 overall record to date.

Inkster wasted Hondo Perdue's five RBI and three hits in losing an 8-4 decision to archrival Robichaud. The Bulldogs also rallied for a 11-10 victory over Inkster in the nightcap in a game that was decided in extra innings.

Charlie Adams was charged with the loss in the first game. He collected two hits as did teammates Wesley Lawrence and Hondo Perdue. Perdue checked in with five RBI.

Memorial places seventh in regionals

By JEFF HAWKINS
ANP Staff Writer

The Wayne Memorial girls track team competed in the 18-team regional track meet recently in Ypsilanti and finished the competition in seventh place.

"I was real satisfied," assistant coach Maria Bayne said. Ann Arbor Pioneer took first with a quality effort from a team that appeared to have a leg up on the rest of the field.

"Pioneer was the one who dominated the meet," Bayne said. "But there was a lot of good competition."

Qualifying for the Michigan High School Athletic Association State Finals from the Zebra squad in the discus was Maya Lewis. She placed second in the overall meet with a throw of 122 feet.

Later solidifying herself as one of the premier track-and-field competitors in the state, Lewis qualified for state, again, in the shot put with a toss of 35-feet, 2-inches.

Not to be outdone by her teammate, Brandy Caincross qualified in the high jump with a leap of 5 feet.

But with the good, always seems to come the bad. While Akua Hammons finished third in the long jum with a flight of 16-feet, 6 1/4 inches, she missed the state finals by 1/4 inch.

"It was a heartbreaker," Bayne said. Other notable finishes for the Zebras included the team of Quinday Cooper, Hammons, Caincross and Shelly Huntsman in the 800-meter relay. They crossed the finish line in fourth place, just missing the qualifying time for state.

Taking fifth place in the 400-meter relay - but also running a strong race - was Cooper, Lewis, Caincross and Huntsman.

Art displays of classic cars will be on view at the Jefferson Avenue Atrium from June 11 to 18.

Two pre-Grand Prix parties will be staged at the Westin Hotel, in the Renaissance Center. The first will be from 5:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. June 15, and the second party will be from 7 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. June 16. Live bands and a disc jockey from 96.3 FM will be performing. Cover charge is $5. A cash bar and snacks will be available. More information on this event is available by calling 871-4754.

The Valvoline Detroit Grand Prix will take place Saturday and Sunday, June 16 and 17. Tickets are available at the Grand Prix Ticket Office, Tower 400 of the Renaissance Center, Level 1, or by calling 259-7749. Two-day and three-day tickets are available.

Original auto racing artwork will be on view at Trackside Trends, an automobile enthusiast's store, from June 15 to 17. Artists Randy Pruitt, Jerry Gambichini, Randy Owens and Robert James Graves will be available to discuss their work. Visitors also can purchase auto-related hats, t-shirts, model cars, pens and posters at the store, located at 400 Renaissance Center.

All of these activities are part of the Detroit Grand Prix celebration. Watch for additional coverage of the Grand Prix in the Wheels section of the Associated Newspapers.

Sue Willett

They aren't going to get me. No matter how they try, no matter what they do, I'm not going to fall into their clutches. Sure, I admit, I've been tempted and perhaps there have been times when their seduction has worked. Not this time, however. I'm too smart and experienced for them and I will not fall victim to their ploys.

We're talking about those devious, underhanded, deceitful creators of television food commercials. Sure, you know the ones I mean. These guys could convince you to eat the tires off your car if they put their minds to it — and often do. C'mon, admit it. How many times have you fallen victim to their ploys and plunked down your money for a cardboard chicken sandwich or a box of sawdust cereal?

As anybody who has encountered my person during the past few weeks is only too aware, I am in the process of starving myself in an effort to look presentable at my son's wedding. This form of masochism is illegal, I'm sure, in at least 14 states. There must be laws to protect people like me from their own vanity. If there aren't, there should be.

It has been during this period of starvation that I have noticed that everything in our society is geared toward food. Sure it is. Try watching television...everyone is eating. If they aren't sitting down at a family dinner discussing some situation, these characters are in restaurants or walking down city streets buying foods from various vendors. And if they aren't eating, they're talking about eating. And newspapers and magazines are just chock full of food. The stuff is everywhere.

Then we get to the commercials. These advertising agencies have turned hamburgers into works of art. Let's face it, when was the last time you bought one of those fast-food concoctions that actually looked like the ones photographed for television? Hah. Who do these guys think they're kidding? For those uninitiated into the tricks of television advertising, that milk cascading from the pitcher onto those perfect cereal flakes and caressing each exquisitely formed piece of cereal is most likely Elmer's White Glue thinned with a bit of carbonated water.

Oh yes it is. Furthermore, a great deal of that luscious food you view is painted, tainted and cosmetically enhanced to the point of inedibility. Do you yearn for one of those gorgeous potato chips those incredibly beautiful models are crunching? Well, next time you see that commercial, remember that some poor entry-level employee spent about three days going through 40 or 50 bags of chips to get a one-pound collection of "perfect" examples of the product. And how many boxes of cereal did it take to get a whole bowl of perfect flakes, eh? Eighty? Ninety?

And no matter how long I starve, how much I exercise I get or any amount of money spent on cosmetic surgery, no bowl of cereal is ever going to make me look like that woman in the red bathing suit encouraging me to eat Special K. Actually, she makes me want to throw a bowl of that junk right through the screen, Elmer's Glue and all.

Nope, it isn't working. If I'm going to fall off this diet, it's going to be for something worthwhile and real. I dream of cheesecake, pies, prime rib and hollandaise sauce. I'd kill for a

Rick Cushman

Fresh summer foods make debut

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

It's so convenient — just as we enter the season for skimpy clothing, strawberries, peaches, plums and watermelons come into season.

Just as we pack up the last of our bulky, shapeless sweaters, grocers are loading their shelves with fresh ears of corn, Michigan-grown radishes and sweet onions.

Late spring and summer are ideal times for fresh produce, and a sweet, dripping peach hardly seems like a form of self-denial even if it is low in calories.

"The variety is getting bigger and bigger," said Rick Cushman, owner of Canton Country Market.

Cushman said he is starting to stock nectarines, blueberries and cherries. Other products carried year round are now more affordable.

"Watermelon is getting very reasonable (price), and strawberries are coming down," he said.

For those who truly want to indulge, exotic fruits create a delicious sense of decadence. Cushman carries mangos from Mexico, kiwi, starfruit, coconut and fresh pineapple.

Similar to nectarines, mangos are extremely sweet, Cushman said. He warned against trying to eat a whole fruit in one sitting.

Kiwi has a lighter flavor. Cushman said the fuzzy fruits serve a dual purpose.

"It's a natural meat tenderizer," he said.

Cushman suggested putting slices of the kiwi on top of a steak before cooking.

The starfruit, he said, is rather tart. When sliced, the yellow fruit resembles, what else, a star.

The market carries a fruit salad made from watermelon, strawberries, red and green grapes and kiwi. The salads always sell better when he adds a few slices of starfruit, Cushman said.

"It tastes like sweet tart candy," he said. "It's a novelty thing."

As for veggies, Cushman said Michigan produce is starting to hit the stands.

"The Michigan radishes are like boulders...And you've got Michigan asparagus. Our asparagus is shipped all over. It's very good."

This is also the best time of year for onion fans. Vidalia sweet onions from Georgia are harvested in the late spring.

"This is the time to scarf up those things."

Cushman said many of his customers buy the onions in 50-pound bags and store them. The key is wrapping the onions separately and hanging them so they can breathe. Onions can last two to three months that way.

Cushman suggested using old nylons. Drop the onions in, and tie a knot between each. Cut the onions off as needed.

"Most people don't eat enough fruit and vegetables," Cushman continued. "It's a good snack for kids."

For a quick treat, he peels and slices carrot sticks and stores them in a cup of water in the refrigerator.

"When you soak them they're sweeter, juicier, not dry tasting."

To liven up salads in the summer months, Cushman adds raw broccoli and cauliflower. Instead of lettuce, he said, use spinach leaves.

"A lot of people are afraid of spinach... Spinach is much better for you than lettuce, and it tastes good."

A simple oil and vinegar dressing sets off the vegetable flavor.

Cushman says his favorite way to eat produce is raw, possibly with a dip. Here are a few more possibilities.

Pineapple boat

1 small ripe pineapple
Oranges
Strawberries
Honeydew
Bananas
Pecans, finely chopped

Cut pineapple in half lengthwise. Scoop out insides. Save juice. Cube pineapple from inside. Cut up oranges. Slice strawberries. Cube honeydew. (Use enough fruit to fill pineapple shell). Mix fruit. Pour in shell and chill.

Cut pineapple in quarters. Just before serving slice bananas and fold into fruit. Sprinkle chopped nuts on top. Serve boats on bed of lettuce. Fruits can be changed according to season.

Buffet vegetable salad

1 large bunch broccoli
1 pint brussels sprouts
2 9-ounce packages frozen artichoke hearts
1 cup sliced celery
1/4 cup sliced onion
1/4 cup sliced green olives
1/2 cup chopped pecans
2/3 cup salad oil
1/3 cup wine vinegar
1/2 clove garlic
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon cayenne

Cook just until crisp-tender and drain vegetables. Cut broccoli and sprouts into fairly small pieces. Combine all dressing ingredients and blend well. Marinate all the vegetables and olives in the dressing for 24 hours. Just before serving all the chopped pecans. Serves eight.

Macedonian salad

2 medium (1 pound) eggplant
2 cups diced tomato
2 cups diced unpeeled cucumber
1 cup diced green pepper
1/2 cup diced red pepper
1/2 cup sliced green onion

1/2 cup chopped fresh parsley
1/2 cup safflower oil
1/4 cup olive oil
1/2 cup wine vinegar
1/4 cup dry red wine
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 cloves garlic, minced
1/2 teaspoon leaf oregano, crumbled
1/2 teaspoon leaf thyme, crumbled
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
salad greens

Peel eggplant, cut into three-quarter-inch thick slices. Salt lightly. Broil until light brown on both sides, four to five minutes per side. Cool. Cut into bite-size pieces. Combine eggplant, tomato, cucumber, red and green pepper, green onion and parsley in large bowl. Combine remaining ingredients (except salad greens) in large jar with screw top. Shake thoroughly. Pour over vegetables. Toss gently. Cover and refrigerate for several hours for flavors to blend. Serve on salad greens.

Apricot ring mold

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar
pinch salt
2 cups apricot nectar
3/4 cups water
1 cup white wine
1 cup sour cream
Fresh fruit: cantaloupe, honeydew, strawberries, pineapple chunks

In a saucepan combine first five ingredients. Cook on low heat and stir until gelatin dissolves. Stir in wine and remove pan from heat. Gradually blend in sour cream. (This can be whipped with a hand mixer to break up sour cream and give a smoother consistency). Pour into five-and-a-half-cup mold. Chill until set. Unmold and fill ring with fresh fruit. Serves eight to 10.

Fresh fruit salad sauce

1/2 cup sugar
salt to taste
1 orange (juice and 1/2 teaspoon grated peel)
1 lemon (juice and 1/2 teaspoon grated peel)
2 beaten eggs
4 teaspoons cornstarch
1 cup pineapple juice
8 ounces cream cheese

Combine all ingredients except cream cheese in the top of a double boiler. Cook until thick. Chill until cold. Whip the cream cheese and fold the other mixture into it. Serve over fresh fruit.

Benefit concert to feature 'Elvis' impersonator

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

An Elvis-style performer has joined the group of friends and neighbors who are rallying to the aid of a 13-year-old Westland youth who is waging a fight against cancer.

Jim Patrick and the J.P. Junction Band will present "A Night with Elvis" at the Oddfellows Temple, 32975 Glenwood, Wayne, from 4 until 8 p.m. June 10.

All proceeds of the event will be donated to the Bob W. Corbett Trust Fund, which has been established at the Wayne-Westland Credit Union.

Bob, who attended Adams Junior High School prior to his illness, is undergoing treatments for cancer and has been hospitalized for short periods during the past several months. Between his periods of illness, the 13-year-old has been cheered by expressions of support from friends, neighbors and individuals throughout the community. In addition, Bob has received autographed pictures and souvenirs from Detroit-area professional sports figures.

Patrick, who has been featured in Elvis shows for 13 years, is enthusiastic about performing in the benefit for Bob that was organized by the youth's former softball coach, James Savage, of Sports Production.

"When Savage talked to me about the young man who has cancer, and asked if I would do a benefit, I did not have to wait to give him my answer - the band and I will be glad to do the benefit," Patrick said. "I am very honored to be able to do a benefit for Bob Corbett. I wish the circumstances could be different, such as happier times for Bob."

Patrick noted that when he was about the same age as Bob, he first felt that God had given him a special gift to be able to sing and perform.

"To be able to take that gift and develop it into something that could put happiness into people's lives made me feel very special and proud deep down inside," Patrick said. "I have dreamed about the day when I could touch the heart of someone very special - to make him feel the way I feel when I sing. I believe I've done just that by having the privilege of knowing this young man, if only for a brief time in his life. Bob Corbett has touched me very deeply."

Patrick traces his musical ability to his mother, who played all types of stringed instruments. At the age of 13 or 14, he began playing in area clubs, and has continued to perform all of his adult life, working with Kitty Wells, The Kendalls and other well known country-western groups.

His back-up group, the J.P. Junction Band, features Jim Morris, lead guitar; Ed Parish, bass guitar, Bobby Bau, drums, and new band member Walt Knebl.

"They are a top-notch band. When you do an Elvis show, you need to pick the best musicians you can find, and these guys are the best," Patrick said. "We've played together for eight years."

Patrick will be performing a variety of Elvis music - some of the popular love songs for the women in the audience and some of the dynamic tunes for the men, he said.

Tickets are $5 each, and information about the event can be obtained by calling Savage, 595-4837, or Arlene Jones, 722-6632.

Snickers bar and there is no limit to my lust for chocolate. But soon, very soon, this deprivation will be over. The wedding is nearly here and the diet almost ended.

Super rich cheesecake

Three 8-ounce packages cream cheese, at room temperature
1 cup granulated sugar
5 large egg yolks
1 whole large egg
1 tablespoon vanilla extract
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1/4 cup heavy cream
2 teaspoons lemon juice

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Butter sides and bottom of an 8 1/2-inch springform pan. Attach a flat paddle, if available, in place of beaters on electric mixer. In large electric mixer bowl, beat the cream cheese until smooth and soft. Add sugar and beat until creamy. Add yolks, whole egg and vanilla and beat smooth. Sprinkle on the flour and slowly blend it into the batter, then beat in the cream and lemon juice. Turn the batter into the prepared pan and set pan on a sturdy baking sheet or jelly-roll pan. Place cake in center of preheated oven and bake for 50 minutes or until the edges of the cake are slightly puffed up and the center is firm to the touch, though softer and flatter than the edges. When you tap the side of the pan, the center of the cake should move slightly but not jiggle as though liquid. Turn off oven heat, but leave cake in the oven with the door propped open for five minutes to reduce temperature. Close oven door and leave cake in oven for another 55 minutes. Remove cake from oven and set on wire rack, in the pan. Fold a piece of aluminum foil into a two-sided tent and place it atop the cake to shield it from drafts as it continues to cool. When cake is completely cool, cover with plastic wrap or foil and refrigerate for four hours or overnight. Serve with fresh sweetened strawberries or other fruit toppings.

Parent and child find hope at Penrickton Center

By MARY SHIRODA
ANP Staff Writer

Donna Green says Penrickton Center for Blind is a place where "miracles" occur.

Before she learned about Penrickton, Green had little hope for the future of her adopted son, Nicky, now 7. Nicky first came to Green when he was just two months old as a foster child. They knew at that time Nicky was blind. But later they would learn his handicaps were more extensive, for Nicky is also mentally retarded.

"It wasn't hard to love Nicky," Green said. "But it was hard to teach him."

Teachers at the public schools couldn't control Nicky, Green said.

"They couldn't handle him for an hour, let alone a whole day. He was so intolerable before," she said.

But a few years ago Green heard about Penrickton Center for Blind Children and things began to change for Nicky.

Penrickton Center, located at 26530 Eureka Road in Taylor, is a private, non-profit charitable organization licensed by the Michigan Department of Social Services.

Kurt Sebaly, executive director of Penrickton, said an investigation of a child's background is done first to determine if the child qualifies for their services.

"I came home and cried," Green said, after her first visit to Penrickton with Nicky. "I couldn't believe what I had seen. They know how to handle blind, multiple-handicapped children."

In addition to Penrickton, the Greens had the option of sending Nicky to a state home for the retarded where the residents often don't visit with family more than three days a year.

But Penrickton is not an "institution". Students are taken to Boblo Island, Willow Park, and circuses. Nicky has even had the experience of riding an elephant.

"I came out here with a lot of hesitation," she said, remembering her first visit to Penrickton. "Nicky was in school for only two hours a week back then. That's all he could handle. I didn't think there was that much wrong with him. It was hard when I first brought him here."

Before Nicky came to Penrickton he didn't talk, had an attention span of "about a minute," Green said, and he knew he could intimidate people by behaving badly.

"Nicky used to have temper tantrums that lasted from a half hour to an hour," she said. "He used to bang his head for attention."

"Nicky doesn't have the same verbal skills as 'normal' children," said Sebaly. "You've heard of the terrible twos? Children at that age can't communicate. They get frustrated. Their frustration manifests itself in the form of tantrums—until they learn how to communicate."

Today, Nicky, a little boy with shining dark hair and eyes fringed with rows of thick black lashes, has progressed to what Sebaly calls 'echolalia.' He will frequently repeat what he hears. For example, when Green asked Nicky if he was on the bushe responded with, "Go on the bus?"

Penrickton provides multiple services to blind, multiple-handicapped children in the tri-county area. Nicky is part of their five-day residential program. He stays at the center from Sunday night until Friday evening. Green is at the center by 5 p.m. every Friday night to take Nicky home for the weekend.

Penrickton also offers day care for children up to six years old who are blind and have at least one other handicap.

All children, whether residents or day care, must attend the public school program during the day. Families of the children in day care must live within a half-hour of the center.

"We work with the things people take for granted," said Sebaly, in regard to their programs. They focus on the children's sensory perceptions that don't pertain to sight. For example, Penrickton therapists bring take the children to the YMCA in Wyandotte every week to swim.

Green said Nicky "just loves" the water. He enjoys activities that require 'gross motor skills'—plenty of movement. Another favorite pastime for Nicky is the "bubble room," a box the size of a hot tub filled with colorful plastic balls the size of tennis balls. A social worker at the center, such as Ivory McKay, will get into the "room" with Nicky and supervise while Nicky rolls and frolics and tosses balls into the air.

"We have a philosophy here," said Sebaly, who has worked at Penrickton 11 years. "Parents are involved with the care of their children. Parents make choices. We want to help parents help themselves."

"I'd do anything for Penrickton," said Green.

Currently, Green is currently planning a garage sale to collect money for the center. The garage sale will be June 21, 22 and 23 at St. John's Lutheran School located at 2602 S. Wayne Road in Wayne. Anyone wishing to donate items may call her at 421-0828.

Penrickton Center is the only non-profit agency of its kind in Michigan. There is no charge for their services. Funding comes solely from private mail campaigns, service clubs like the Lions and Knights of Columbus, garage sales, churches, and local businesses. Kmart of Garden City recently collected $1,000 for the center.

"Team work and atmosphere make it all worthwhile," said Janet Ames, who has been a social worker at the center five years. "Some people bring their families in to see the kids. Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, and students from area schools have visited."

"Kids here love when other kids come in. Kids haven't established their prejudices yet. There are still people who will say, 'What did you do so wrong to have this child?' In 1990! A visit to the center is a great learning experience for anyone."

Though Nicky's future can't be predicted, Green hopes that he will some day be able to attend a class where he'll sit at a desk and learn to write.

"That's our hope," she said. "Nicky's done nothing but progress at Penrickton. I've watched him change into something I'd never expected."
